Pope seeks reelection

Thursday, January 19, 2006

State Rep. Susan Pope, R-Wayland, is seeking reelection in the Massachusetts House of Representatives.

As a former Wayland School Committee member and former selectman, Pope was first elected in 1996.

She is currently involved in the battle for senior tax relief (many local option bills have been passed), increasing local aid for our suburban communities (a continuing battle that is formula driven), veterans issues and infrastructure.

Pope said she has worked hard so that the two Wayland bridges deemed unsafe by the Massachusetts Highway Department are being rebuilt to current standards, with funds already allocated. Construction on the Route 20 bridge will begin this spring.

Pope said she feels the Democratically-controlled Legislature needs balance. She said she takes her job seriously and has a 100 percent voting record. She said she is a full-time representative and is committed, dedicated and approachable.
